

Reading Groups and Reading Tutoring* Fall '06

*Monday–Tuesday 10-2 | Wednesday 4–7 | Thursday-Friday 10-2 | Sept 5-Dec 15 | R 207

While computer and workbook activities may be utilized at the Reading Lab (Library 207) 8am-7:45pm most of the week, students taking any level of English class may go to the Reading Lab to work face-to-face with a faculty reading tutor during the hours shown below. Students may also join a reading group for lab credit (1.5 hrs a meeting) and/or pleasure; specific group schedules and descriptions are shown below. Both options offer great opportunities to learn from and interact with instructors and peers.

Reading Groups (Please sign up in advance at the Reading Lab counter in Library 207 and email the faculty leader)

Discuss The Revolt of the Cockroach People, by Oscar Zeta Acosta and take a powerful Mexican-American hippie trip back to the turbulent 1960s and '70s. Tuesdays 11-12, 9/12-10/10 or 10/17-11/14 in Library 215 Email Mr. Bacsiera: bbacsier@ccsf.edu

Discuss James McBride's The Color of Water, a beautiful story of a black man's relationship with his Jewish mother and an insightful look at race. Tuesdays 5:30-6:30, 9/12-10/10 or 10/17-11/14 in Batmale 511 Email Ms. Sanelli: asanelli@ccf.edu

Discuss Mark Haddon's The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time, a wildly original, fun mystery narrated by a 15-year-old autistic savant obsessed w/ Sherlock Holmes. Thursdays 5-6, 10/5-11/9 in Library 215 Email Ms. Young: icyoung@ccsf.edu

What do Tom Cruise, Arnold Schwarzenegger, Harrison Ford, & Keanu Reeves have in common? They've all made films based on Philip K. Dick's writing. Discuss a series of PKD's short stories (packet provided) & ask why his kind of science fiction has come to seem more like a prediction than a fantasy. Wednesdays 3-4, 9/13-10/11 or 10/18-11/15 in Library 215 Email Mr. Cook: kcook@ccsf.edu

Talk about Blood of Palomar, by Gilbert Hernandez, a graphic novel by a Chicano artist about a small Central American town beset by a killer, who may be just a symptom of the town's struggle with the increasing intrusions of the modern world.

Thursdays 2-3, 9/14-10/12 or 10/19-11/16 in Library 215 Email Mr. Walsh: jwalsh28@yahoo.com

Reading Tutoring (Please sign in at the Reading Lab counter and then proceed to the tutoring table.)

	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
10:00 ↓ 11:00	C. Slates	De. Spears		B. Bacsiera	A. Leyton
11:00 ↓ 12:00	C. Slates	Bacsiera Group De. Spears		A. Miles	A. Leyton
12:00 ↓ 1:00	J. Levinson	De. Spears		A. Miles	M. Bosson
1:00 ↓ 2:00	J. Levinson	J. Young		E. Zarubin	M. Bosson
2:00 ↓ 3:00				Walsh Group
3:00 ↓ 4:00			Cook Group
4:00 ↓ 5:00			A. Leyton
5:00 ↓ 6:00		Sanelli Group	A. Lang	Young Group
6:00 ↓ 7:00			A. Lang		