Chris Jackson
Trustee

Chris Jackson was elected to the Board of Trustees in 2008. He is a third generation San Franciscan and currently works as a policy analyst for the San Francisco Labor Council, ensuring social and economic justice in the workplace.

Trustee Jackson graduated from San Francisco State University with a degree in Speech Communication.

After graduation, Trustee Jackson worked as a Fellow in the office of Assembly Member Kevin De León. He primarily worked on Higher Education, Budget and Human Services policy.

As a leader at San Francisco State — in his senior year, Chris was elected President of SFSU's Associated Students — he created a full time recruitment and retention center, Project Connect that provides many K-12 students with their first contact with college. Also while attending San Francisco State, Chris established a sustainable book loan program, new financial aid workshops, and an internship program.

As an officer of the San Francisco Youth Commission, Trustee Jackson has pushed for greater focus on youth employment and youth violence prevention. As the Legislative Affairs Officer for the Youth Commission, Chris worked with the Board of Supervisors to expand youth services on the West-Side of San Francisco and to expand the Mayor's Youth Employment and Education Program (MYEEP).

As a board member of Young Workers United, Chris helped pass the City's Minimum Wage Ordinance. He also helped draft the City's Paid Sick Day Leave Act.
