The program, designed to encourage students to graduate from high school and enroll in college, provides a course of study to better prepare students academically and motivationally to succeed in high school and in college. Students may earn both high school and college credit in City College classes selected to be relevant to the students' experience. For further information, contact the CCSF Program Coordinator or the SFSUD Program Liaison in the Office of the Dean of Student Advocacy, Rights and Responsibilities (Conlan Hall, Room 106, 239-3631).

Learning Communities
Learning Communities is a program designed to link two or more courses together so that students have opportunities for deeper understanding and integration of the material they are learning, and more interaction with one another and their teachers as fellow participants in learning. Faculty from different subject areas work together to connect their courses and unify the material under a central theme. Being part of a learning community increases a student's chance of meeting graduation and transfer requirements, improves chances of completing courses and enhancing grades. Students experience added support from their peers and instructors in an environment that favors collaboration and teamwork. Learning Communities are a welcome addition to the urban commuter college environment. For information on Learning Community courses contact the Learning Communities Office in Science Hall, Room 221 at 239-3342 or see the course offerings in the City College Time Schedule under “Learning Communities.”

Math Bridge Program
This is a one year long program beginning each fall semester whose purpose is to assist African American, Latino, Filipino, and Native American students to complete elementary algebra and geometry successfully. However, all students are welcome to apply.

All students must apply to the program. An orientation is given and applications are accepted only during the spring semester. Students enter the program during the fall.

Math Bridge is not a remedial program. The goal of the program is to help students successfully complete mathematics prerequisites offered at City College in order to increase the number of transfers to baccalaureate colleges and universities.

Group and individual counseling, tutoring, and other activities supplement the traditional mathematics lecture. Students also learn to develop skills that will be useful in other college courses. Call 239-3933 for more information regarding admission to the program.

Mentoring and Service-Learning
The Office of Mentoring and Service-Learning offers two types of programs to increase student success and transfer, and enrich the college experience with hands-on application of classroom learning. In the Mentoring program, a student is matched with a mentor. A mentor is “a kind of guide who, despite having been far enough ahead to know something of what’s down the path, comes back to walk with you, and thus leads without leaving you to follow.” Mentors are currently available to students taking specific courses in science, social science, and liberal arts. They may also be available to individual “at risk” students who could benefit from a mentor.

In the Service-Learning program, students enrolled in courses offering service-learning as an option are placed in the community, where they apply both academic and practical skills for the benefit of society. Service-Learning integrates community service with academic instruction so that each strengthens the other, and provides time for reflection and critical thinking while making significant contributions to individuals, organizations, and neighborhoods. For example, student taking biology courses may contribute to habitat restoration. In Project SHINE (Students Helping in the Naturalization of Elders), students in political science, psychology, sociology, foreign languages, and health prepare elders to take the citizenship exam. Students participating in Project SAFE (HIV/STD Prevention) integrate concepts of health through presentations and referrals to health and service agencies. Project Survive offers peer education to prevent sexual violence through an interdisciplinary course.

For more information about mentoring or service-learning opportunities, call 239-3771.

Orientation Classes
To help students receive a more comprehensive understanding of the College, counselors offer Orientation Classes which thoroughly acquaint students to the demands of academic programs, the College's various services, including the development of personal, career, educational goals including a transfer plan, and obtaining job-seeking skills. Orientation classes are also offered through the Career Development and Placement Center and through the Extended Opportunity and Services Program.

Peer Advisors
The Peer Advisors are a group of students who have been trained extensively to offer support toward students' success at CCSF. Re-entry to Education Program (REP)
REP acknowledges the growing number of adults actively changing their lives through the educational process. Whether one is seeking to enhance his/her knowledge, learn new job skills, or prepare for a professional career, REP seeks to ease the transition for the re-entry student’s return to school. The staff understands that barriers can exist to beginning or re-entering college as well as to completing one's educational goals. Identifying these barriers and helping students address their resolution is REP's highest priority.

REP provides the following services to both prospective and currently enrolled students: professional counseling for personal, crisis, academic, and vocational concerns; information on transfer to four-year institutions; parenting/child care; study skills, job training and career opportunities; peer advising for assistance with completing forms, referral to campus and community resources, and the student perspective on campus life. Workshops and support groups are held to assist students in adjusting to college expectations; to discuss issues such as career/life planning, study skills, goal setting, time management, financial aid, final examination preparations, and stress management.

Credit for Military Training. City College will grant six semester units of credit to students who present to the Office of Veterans Educational Benefits official documentation showing that they have completed one year or more of active duty in any of the Armed Forces of the United States. Veterans who have completed military-training courses equivalent to courses offered at City College will be awarded up to a maximum of ten units. These are based on the recommendations made by the American Council of Education. Students may use such credit in partial unit satisfaction of the requirements for the degree of Associate in Arts or Associate in Science.
