RECOGNITION OF ACHIEVEMENT

Cinefest honors Greg and Saul Landau

CCSF Music Department professor Greg Landau joined his father Saul, in a special tribute to the senior Landau's films at the Sixth Annual Cinefest, at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Hall of Fame cinematographer Haskell Wexler was a special guest at the event to honor Saul Landau, who has made more than 40 films with a focus on human rights and social and political issues. Greg Landau is an award-winning music video producer and educator, a two-time Grammy nominee and a producer of more than 30 CDS, film sound tracks and videos. For the last 20 years he has also made documentaries in Latin America with his father and Wexler.

Steve Georgiou featured on SF Gate

Steve Georgiou, who teaches humanities at CCSF, was recently interviewed for a special report posted on www.sfgate.com, the website of the San Francisco Chronicle. The piece is titled "Finding My Religion. Steve Georgiou on his faith and mentor, minimalist poet Robert Lax." Georgiou talks about spiritual life in the Eastern Orthodox church (a Christian faith that dates its origins from the time of Jesus and his apostles) and his relationship with Lax.

Susan Jackson in 'Who's Who' again

Susan Jackson of the Theatre Arts Department faculty has been honored in Who's Who in American Teachers for the second year in a row (2003 and now 2004). Just two percent of the nation's teachers are honored in more than one edition. Jackson, who recently completed performing in Wit with Palo Alto Players to excellent reviews and standing ovations: "Susan Jackson's performance was luminous." And "Such a subject (illness and lingering death in the 1999 Pulitzer Prize-winning masterpiece, Wit) requires a leading lady of extraordinary talent and the Palo Alto Players has produced one. She is Susan Jackson."

Success begins at City College

By Teri Chapman

Construction Faculty, Evans Campus

“It’s just one way I can give back for what City College has done for me. City College changed my life and made all this possible.” Tony Leong gestured at rows and rows of shelving. Tony Leong’s companies, Safeco Electric Supply and Peer Lite furnish materials and fine lighting fixtures to the construction industry and homeowners. His cavernous warehouse sits in the morning shadow of I280, just a half mile from the Evans Campus.

Tony’s employees had already dropped off a pallet packed with supplies at Evans, and I came by for a few odds and ends. Tony pulled a $120 tool from a case. “Could you use one of these?” he asked and added it to my pile.

“The greatest thing that can happen to a person is to be able to get an education,” Tony said. “This country is wonderful. In most countries only a few people have the opportunity to get a higher education and there are very few colleges. Here the government provides financial aid and grants to help students afford college. If a person is willing to work and study hard, they will have lots of opportunities. And here, you can be a part-time student. They offer classes at night and on Saturdays for working people. You can’t go to school and work at the same time in Singapore.”

I met Tony Leong in the late 90’s, when Safeco was located a half block from the Pac Bell Park construction site. Tony offered to let my construction students explore the inner workings of an electrical supply company after they completed their Pac Bell job site tour. Last fall, when I told Tony about our dire need for materials to teach our Electrical Applications courses, Tony told me to make a list. As a gesture of appreciation for his donating thousands of dollars worth of electrical supplies, I offer to take him to lunch and find out more about his journey to becoming a successful San Francisco businessman. He agreed on the condition that I let him buy my lunch. He met me at the Evans Campus and drove to the east end of Evans Avenue to the historic Dago Mary’s Restaurant.

At the age of twenty three, Tony arrived in the United States with $400. In his native Singapore, he’d completed high school and his requisite military service. He had worked in a government factory fine-tuning the machines that make coins and M-16 rifles and later as a bank teller.

As we awaited for our sandwiches, Tony related how he had told a job counselor that he wanted to work in a bank. The counselor encouraged him to go to school instead. Tony’s eyes lit up as he asserted, “That was the best advice!” He had always perceived that a higher education was the privilege of the elite few. He had never imagined that a college education would be within his reach.

Tony enrolled in CCSF and worked in the library and as a bookkeeper to cover his expenses. A few years later, Tony had been accepted as a transfer student to U.C. Berkeley. He never went to Cal because one of his accounting professors at City College told him about a full paid scholarship to Golden Gate University. Although many applied, Tony was selected and went on to earn his B.A. in accounting from GGU.

Tony continued his path of part-time work and study through his time at GGU, working for general contractors and electrical contractors. He had the opportunity to work on residential, commercial, high-rise and hospital projects and was often involved in the procurement and organization of materials.

Tony discovered when he graduated from GGU, that most accounting firms were not interested in a 30 year old graduate; he settled for a job chasing corporate loop-hole abusers for the IRS. Jenny, Tony’s wife and fellow GGU accounting graduate, encourage him to start a business. They had a bumpy start with a hardware store, but then opted to specialize in electrical materials. Safeco became successful and they later went on to buy Peer Lite from a friend who wished to retire.

The CCSF construction faculty applaud the Leong’s accomplishments are immensely grateful for generous contributions of the Safeco Electric Supply and Peer Lite. Thank you, thank you, Tony and Jenny Leong!

Café Musée talks of Balthus March 19

Balthus: Ambiguity and Erotic Provocations will be the topic explored at Café Musée on Saturday, March 19 from 9:30 A.M. to 12:30 P.M. in Room V114 of the Visual Arts Building on the Ocean Avenue Campus. The discussion will be conducted in the French language.

Café Musée is an officially recognized CCSF club whose activities are funded in part by the Associated Students.

Coordinators Jan Elvé and Renée Morel organize slide presentations, museum tours all in French.

For further information, contact Elvé at elvé1@earthlink.net or Morel at (415) 255-8301 or rmorel@ccsf.edu.

Legion of Honor offers free event

On Friday March 4, the Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco will present a College Day Event from 12 NOON to 5 P.M.. It is free to all students, faculty and staff with a valid CCSF ID. The current show is Bonjour, Monsieur Courbet! featuring works of Courbet, Gericault, Delacroix, Barye and the influence of the collector Bruyas . Many of the works can only be seen in art history books, so this is a must see show for your students, says Rick Rodrigues of the CCSF Art faculty. From 1 to 5 P.M. Rodrigues' Museum Drawing Class will be in gallery #8 in costume drawing two models in the costume of the French countryside.

The Legion of Honor is located at 34th Avenue and Clement St. in Lincoln Park. For event information: call (415) 682-2481 or email rbaldocchi@famsf.org.

Hiring committee

Faculty and classified are needed to serve on the hiring committee for the above administrative position. Interested faculty should contact Fred Teti, President, Academic Senate, at (415) 239-3611, Campus Mail E202. Interested classified should contact David Gallerani immediately at (415) 452-5452, Campus Mail R501.

Foreign Languages Placement Testing

Please inform your students that the CCSF Foreign Language Department offers advisory placement testing in Chinese, French, German, Japanese and Spanish. "Whether your last language course was last semester — or years ago — the tests help students decide which course to enroll in," says Dr. Tom Blair, Foreign Language Chair.

The tests in French, German and Spanish are online, take about 20 minutes to complete, and immediately send the student his/her results via e-mail. In Chinese, the test must be taken in the Language Lab on set dates. The Japanese test is online, but requires an answer sheet which can be obtained in Arts 203.

Sites for the French, German and Spanish tests are:

French: www.ccsf.edu/forlang/frtest.htm

German: www.ccsf.edu/forlang/getest.htm

Spanish: www.ccsf.edu/forlang/sptest.htm

For details on the Chinese and Japanese tests go to:

Chinese: www.ccsf.edu/Departments/Language_Lab/Chiplacement.htm

Japanese: www.ccsf.edu/Departments/Language_Lab/Japanplacement.htm

"City College is the first California community college to offer the placement testing in so many languages," notes Blair. "Many adult learners have availed themselves of these tests to properly place themselves in language classes. We are currently working with the California Public Utilities Commission to assess their employees' ability in some languages. These tests are a big help."

EVENTS & ANNOUNCEMENTS

DSPS hosts outreach

City College has orientations for high school seniors and those wanting information about disabilities. Open to CCSF faculty, staff, students, and members of the community sessions are meant to ensure a successful transition from high school to CCSF and to learn about disability rights and responsibilities. Most importantly, all attending get to learn how to utilize disability services. Topics discussed include how to:

- Register for disability-related classes
- Receive academic accommodations
- Utilize special disability-related counseling
- Develop an educational direction
- Use student support services to improve study skills

- Arrange for testing for learning disabilities at the post-secondary level
- Make the best out of college life

All who are interested (including faculty, staff and students) in learning more about disability services at CCSF are invited to attend any of the upcoming 60-minute sessions at the Louise and Claude Rosenberg, Jr., Library, Room 305 on the following dates:

- Tuesday, March 22, 4-5 P.M.
- Thursday, April 28, 4-5 P.M.
- Tuesday, May 10, 4-5 P.M.
- Thursday, May 12, 4-5 P.M.

If you need disability-related accommodations in order to attend call (415) 452-5481 within 48 hours of the event.

Nominations for Executive Council requested

February 14, 2005

To: ACADEMIC SENATE MEMBERS
From: Academic Senate Election Commission

Subject: NOMINATIONS FOR EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Nominations are now open for the 2005-2007 term of office on the Executive Council of the Academic Senate. There are fifteen (15) vacancies, each of which is for a two-year term. Note: if any of the fifteen (15) members whose terms expire in Spring 2006 (see "Council Staying On" below) resign, their term(s) will be completed by the runners up in this election, starting with the person ranked 16th in number of votes received and proceeding in order of decreasing vote number until all the vacant positions are filled, and in accordance with any limits in the Constitution and Bylaws.

Nominations for Council membership are made by petition (see over for Petition form). Each petition must be endorsed by three (3) members of the Senate and must include the signed acceptance of the nominee. In addition to the petition, each nominee may include a statement of no more than 25 words to be included with the ballot. Longer statements will be edited or omitted.
