During the 1997-98 period nearly 371,000 people immigrated into California—13.6% of whom immigrated to Alameda, San Francisco and San Mateo. Five percent of all immigrants—18,195—came to San Francisco.