

Office of the Chancellor

---

OFFICIAL COLLEGE STATEMENT

On Hurricane Harvey

While we at CCSF begin the second week of the semester, many of our colleagues and students in community colleges throughout Texas and Louisiana have struggled to deal with the terrible devastation of Hurricane Harvey. Most schools and colleges were scheduled to start classes today. It may be days and even weeks until teaching and learning begin again.

On behalf of our Board of Trustees, our faculty, staff and students, I send to our colleagues and all those affected by Hurricane Harvey this note of support and friendship. You have our well wishes and our prayers.

Many in the San Francisco community, including members of our city Fire Department, have answered the call of duty and are assisting in the recovery effort. I know all of us at CCSF stand ready to assist in any way we can and we will continue to monitor the situation. I will consult with faculty, staff and student leaders to develop ways our college can help out.

In particular, please let me know if anyone in our CCSF community has family or friends in the affected areas so that we can offer them special support during this stressful time.

Mark W Rocha

Dr. Mark W. Rocha, Chancellor
City College of San Francisco

