

Career and Technical Education

Enrolling at CCSF may be your first step on a new career path, part of your plan to remain ahead of changing demands in your work place, or it may fulfill your lifelong learning objective for lasting and rewarding employment. We look forward to helping you achieve your career goals. Unsure about which career path is right for you? Take the CareerMatch survey at www.ccsf.edu/careermatch to see how your interests match with Career and Technical Education (CTE) programs offered at CCSF.

How to Use the Guide

The CTE Guide will help you to understand how to enroll in over 200 CTE programs available at CCSF. Here are some terms you will see:

Program – CCSF CTE programs consist of courses designed to prepare students for employment in a specific career field. Programs are listed by academic department in alphabetical order.

Completion Award – When all the courses in a program have been completed, students may apply for an associate degree, a credit certificate or a noncredit certificate. Certificate programs are usually 12 to 30 units, while associate degree programs require 60 or more units of coursework, including general education classes.

Credit/Noncredit – Many CTE programs offer college credit that can be applied to a college degree. As of Spring 2018, credit courses cost $46 per unit for California residents and $257 per unit for non-residents, international students, and students with temporary visas. San Francisco residents qualify for FreeCity, which waives the $46 per unit tuition fee; other fees still apply. Students can also earn certificates by enrolling in noncredit CTE programs. Noncredit courses are free, but students must pay for books, supplies and other materials as required.

Entry Requirements – Some programs use tests or prerequisites to make sure students have the skills required to successfully complete the course.

Program Length – The minimum number of semesters and units (or hours, for noncredit programs) to complete each award is shown. Units listed for degrees correspond to major coursework: the total units for a degree is at least 60. Programs that can be completed entirely during evenings or weekends are marked with an asterisk (*).

Location – CCSF has locations throughout San Francisco. Codes used to identify the location are at the bottom of the program pages.

Financial Aid – Available to eligible students who are enrolled in eligible Title IV programs.

Phone – For further questions, contact information on specific programs is listed.

CCSF provides many services to support your success, such as career advising, academic counseling and tutoring, which are listed in the back of this guide.

HIGH-QUALITY TEACHING

CCSF's faculty have excellent qualifications and a passion for teaching. Nearly all have Master's degrees and many hold Doctorates in their instructional area. Students in career and technical programs benefit from faculty who are dedicated to teaching and keep their skills current by continuing to work in the field.
