Thank you Career Fair participants

Dear Editor:

The 11th annual Spring Career Fair on Wednesday, April 27, was a great success. Thirty-eight employers and more than 400 CCSF students attended, thanks to the hard work of many members of the business and campus communities.

The Career Development and Placement Center (CDPC), Extended Opportunity Programs and Services (EOPS) and CalWorks extend special thanks to many people. Dean Elizabeth Brent of Outreach and Recruitment Services donated CCSF portfolios and souvenirs to all employer representatives. The Culinary Arts and Hospitality Studies Department provided a fine continental breakfast. United Parcel Service donated a huge banner to highlight the ongoing event. Costco brought bottled water to refresh our employers. Also, Custodial Services gave us a very functional table set-up.

We very much appreciated the strong support of members of the CCSF teaching and counseling faculty, who promoted the event and referred students to it.

Sincerely,

Barbara Thomas, Counselor

OBITUARY

Retired nursing faculty member Theresa E. Harris passed away peacefully on April 27, 2005. She worked 46 years as a nurse and as an instructor at City College of San Francisco. The funeral has been held. Memorial donations may be made to CARITAS, P.O. Box 308, Abita Springs, LA 70420.

Dr. Marietta Reyes-Otero mentors Vallejo teachers

Visiting Fulbright scholar Dr. Marietta Reyes-Otero gave a workshop on Philippine language teaching methods to teachers from the Vallejo Unified School Districts last April. Theory, teaching materials, and the use of traditional myths, legends, and folk songs for language teaching were presented. Feedback from the teachers was enthusiastic and they requested follow-up workshops and additional authentic materials for classroom use.

4 Fulbrights for CCSF students

Four CCSF students — Christian Espiritu, Cristina Nuval, Catalina Villanueva and Michelle Baguio — have received Fulbright funded grants for the Advanced Filipino Abroad Program (AFAP), an eight week immersion in Philippine language and culture at De La Salle University in Manila, Philippines. Only 10-15 winners are chosen annually. This year’s awardees were mentored by faculty from the Foreign Languages and Philippine Studies departments.

Samantha Yugler writes for 'College Bound Teens'

City College student Samantha Yugler has written a first-person article about City College of San Francisco for the “Campus Tour” section of the Spring 2005 edition of the magazine College Bound Teen.

Yugler talks about discovering a career as a writer and how City College gave her a solid introduction to journalism.

Culinary Arts featured in San Francisco Bay Guardian

The City College of San Francisco Culinary Arts and Hospitality Studies Department was the subject of a story in the April 2005 issue of “Careers & Education,” a supplement to the San Francisco Bay Guardian. The story profiles how to enroll, what training is available, and what a graduate can expect in the job market.

Asian Coalition awards told

A record 230 guests attended the Asian Coalition dinner held in the Student Cafeteria April 29. Elaine Wang, an ESL faculty member at the Chinatown/ North Beach campus, was given an award for outstanding faculty member. Sunny Ngo, who works in the Alemany Campus New Student Counseling Department, won the outstanding classified member award. Hortensia Chang, a counselor with Disabled Students Programs and Services who is retiring, was recognized for her many years of service to CCSF.

Jurassic Garden planted at Science Hall

Students from Joe Cannon’s Botany 10 class install ferns and other primitive plants for the first phase of what will become a Jurassic Garden in an alcove of the Science Building on the Ocean Avenue Campus. Cannon (far right) is pictured next to retiring professor Paul Young whose dream it was to create the garden. When completed the public can walk through the garden to view and learn about ancient plant and animal specimens.

Speech Team sizzles in Spring 2005

The Forensics Speech and Debate Team has been traveling throughout the country to showcase its CCSF talent. Director Michelle Gorthy and Coach Ivan Oplanic brought team members Nadia Conrad, Skyr Yambrose, Mark Schnapp and Shady Alzayat to San Diego in March to challenge the Southern California league in Lincoln Douglas and Team Parliamentary debate and in Poetry, Impromptu and Extemporaneous events. Nadia Conrad enthusiastically stepped in as an alternate in Parliamentary Team to partner with Skyr Yambrose despite being a novice speaker. Skyr and Nadia missed a bronze medal by 2 speaker points which is equivalent to missing third in the 100 yard dash by a tenth of a second. Skyr Yambrose rose to the occasion when he was awarded the silver medal in debate now ranking second in the State in his event.

In April Judy Chea and William Dwiggins joined the State team and flew to Philadelphia, PA, to compete at the national level. Members must show a history of competitive success and team maturity to be selected to perform at this level. Retired Director Cynthia Dewar joined Michelle Gorthy to coach the National Team. Skyr Yambrose came away from Nationals with a bronze medal, ranking him third in the nation in Impromptu Speaking, and still managed to turn his Physics assignments in on time. Other members should also be acknowledged for their countless hours spent in practice and for the support and grace they demonstrated throughout the tournament. Novices Marte’ Hoskins and Scott Luan rounded out the speech season at the April Spring Fling. Marte’ took third in Persuasion at his first competition.

All competitive members made a repeat performance at Speech Slam and Speech Night on May 17th.

Please let your students know that if they are interested in joining the Speech Team they should telephone Michelle Gorthy at (415) 239-3146 for details on Speech 37 and 38 classes.

The coaches and team members extend a thank you to all the faculty, classified and administrators that have believed in the Forensics Team and shown their support throughout the year.
Southeast to host youth programs

City College’s Southeast Campus will be the venue for Y.E.S. (Youth Experiences at Southeast) Summer Program from June 13 to August 5. A combination of grants totaling $125,000 will fund the two new summer camps that will serve 300 youth. The two programs called “JumpStart Summer Sports” and “Campus JumpStart” will target low-income, elementary school aged young people in the Mission, Visitation Valley and Bayview/Hunters Point neighborhoods. Among the subjects to be offered at Southeast are computer classes, beginning acting, dance practice, learning to sew, and art.

“We are excited about the program and its potential impact on residents in Bayview,” says Dr. Veronica Hunnicutt, Dean, Southeast Campus.

The programs are funded through a public-private partnership between the Southeast Campus, the SF Recreation and Parks Department, SF Parks Trust, and Team UP for Youth.

East/West Group Summer and Fall Activities

Save the dates of November 4 and 5 for a two-day conference on “Islam in Pakistan and Afghanistan,” sponsored by the Freeman Foundation, the East/West Center of the University of Hawaii, and City College of San Francisco. Look for more information to come in the Fall.

This summer the East/West Group is hosting a group of Chinese professors July 14-19. Activities organized by Laurene Wu-McClain, Joan Wilson, Stephan Johnson and Tim Killikelly will include visits to Stanford, U.C. Berkeley, City College of San Francisco, and Delancey Street. Speakers and events will focus on the history of Chinese in California and how the California higher education system operates. For more information, email Bob Irwin at rirwin@ccsf.edu.

Partnership integrates technology between classroom and workplace

City College of San Francisco, using an industry-driven curriculum development process, will customize nurses training for courses in information technology and English as a Second Language for the San Francisco Department of Public Health. This partnership will be to integrate information technology between the classroom and the workplace. The lead person from CCSF on the project is Suzanne Korey, Coordinator, Office of Workforce and Economic Development. Korey and Kristin Hershbell Charles of the Office of Research and Planning, wrote the successful grant. “Being technologically savvy is increasingly important in every field, especially in the health care industry,” said Dr. Philip R. Day, Jr., Chancellor of CCSF. “City College of San Francisco is proud to offer innovative courses that prepare our students to compete in the job market today, and tomorrow,” he added. Providing the $500,000 to train nurses in operating electronic health records are grants from the Walter and Elise Haas Fund, the State of California Community Colleges Chancellor’s Office, Build Shield of California Foundation and The San Francisco Foundation.

CCSF enters an Honors Transfer Agreement with Mills College

The City College of San Francisco Honors Program recently entered into an honors transfer agreement with Mills College in Oakland. The agreement will allow CCSF Honors Students who complete 15 units of honors credits before leaving CCSF to enjoy priority admission status to Mills and guaranteed renewable annual merit scholarships ranging from $10,000 to $12,500. Honors Program Coordinator Sami Kudsi explains, “We are very excited about the transfer agreement with Mills because Mills is one of the best and oldest women’s colleges in the country. Additionally, Mills is one of the best private schools on the west coast.”

Dean of Curriculum, Evaluation and Tenure Review Brian Ellison states, “This is a good faith effort on Mills’ part to show they are serious about wanting our students to transfer to their institution. We are proud to partner with Mills.”

The Honors Program is considered a good match with Mills College. Former CCSF Honors Program member and current Mills College student Marika Cifor explains, “Being in the Honors Program shows that you are capable of more advanced work.”

Ann Ngoc Nguyen, also a former member of the CCSF Honors Program and a current Mills College student, states, “The CCSF Honors Program gave me a glimpse into the work expected at the four-year level.”

Community college transfer student Yolanda Armstrong points out, “At Mills, I’m not a number, I’m an individual.”

CCSF is the number one transfer institution for Mills College in terms of received applications, beating out Laney College, Diablo Valley College, Chabot College, and Merritt College. Since the year 2000, over 100 CCSF women have applied to Mills College. More than half have transferred.

In order to be eligible for the transfer agreement with Mills College CCSF students must be certified as having completed the CCSF Honors Program. The first step in this process is applying for admission to the CCSF Honors Program. Students who have successfully completed the CCSF Honors Program should contact Debbie Woods, Associate Director of Transfer Admission and Student Recruitment at Mills College, to request an admission application or schedule a pre-admission counseling appointment. She can be reached at 1-800-87-MILLS. For more information about the Honors Program, please contact Kudsi (415) 239-3376 or e-mail skudsi@ccsf.edu.
