Sentence Strips for Group Work

Tend to think in pictures and need to create vivid mental images to retain information.

Good body coordination and able to handle objects well, using fine motor skills and eye-hand coordination.

Aware of one’s own moods, wishes, problems, fears, and goals and able to understand and access one’s own feelings.

Remember melody and beat of tunes and think in sounds.

Sensitivity to the functions of language: to convince, to tell information and able to comprehend and write well.

Use numbers and good at recognizing patterns, sequence of ideas.

Try to maintain peace in group settings and encourage cooperation and able to relate well with others and respond to and work with different types of people.