The English Department now offers two intensive 6-unit courses that will allow students to complete two courses in one semester.

English 961A = 6 units 6 hours per week

Prerequisite: Eligibility for English 96

College-level reading assignments. Practice in developing and writing formal essays and pursuing research, critical analysis, and lines of inquiry. Each section of English 961A will be developed around a central question driving class inquiry and research. (See each section in the schedule for the central question for that class.)

English 961A is an intensive course that combines two semester-length courses (English 96 + 1A) into one. Students are advised that the work load in this class is very fast-paced, challenging, and time-consuming. In addition to the required 6 hours per week of class time, students should reserve more than 10 hours each week for reading, writing, and studying outside of class.

At registration, students will be required to enroll in ENGL 96 and the companion section of ENGL 1A. For questions, please call the English Department at (415) 239-3406.
