EMERGENCY MEDICAL TECHNICIAN

Emergency Medical Technician - B. This program will assist the EMT trainees to develop skills in areas of specialized emergency problems, initial patient assessment and care, emergency transportation and communication. This is a prerequisite to Paramedic Training. Successful completion of this course, and successful National Registry Exam, may lead to EMT-B certification from a California Emergency Services Agency, providing the student does not have anything that would preclude certification by the EMS Agency (certain types of criminal record), etc. If you have concerns regarding your particular record, call the S.F. EMS Agency at (415) 487-5000.

EMT - B (EMT 100) is a 12 unit course which is held at John Adams Campus, Room 47. The John Adams day class is from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The evening class, held at John Adams Campus, is from 5:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. every Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

EMT - 101 is a 6.5 unit course held at Evans Campus, Room 102 from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. each Tuesday. Plus additional skills days by arrangement. EMT 101 is an accelerated EMT class. In conjunction with the EMT 100 or EMT 101, the EMT - B Clinical (EMT 102) a 1 unit course is also required for EMT course completion. This will also prepare the student to sit for the National Registry Exam. Clinical hours are arranged outside of class time on an individual basis. Students register for EMT 102 on the first week of class, only students enrolled in EMT 100 or 101 may register for EMT 102.

EMT INFORMATION

What EMT Basic classes are offered?
CCSF offers Emergency Medical Technician Training at 3 campuses throughout the city.

John Adams Campus
EMT 100 - Day Session - meets on Mon, Tue and Wed - 10am to 3pm
EMT 100 - Evening Session - meets on Mon, Tue and Wed - 5pm to 10pm

Evans Campus
EMT 101 - Day Session - meets every Tuesday from 8:30am to 5:00pm

Galileo High School (This is the lecture and skills only)
EMT 101A and B - this class is for high school students enrolled at Galileo.
Students are not eligible to sit for NREMT certification exam.

What do I learn in the EMT Basic classes?

EMT 100 (12 units) and 101 (6.5 units) consists of training in basic life support skills necessary to work on an ambulance or rescue unit. It includes training in cardiac, respiratory, and medical emergencies; traumatic injuries; obstetrical and pediatric emergency care; environmental injuries and CPR. This class may lead to EMT certification. This class is a prerequisite to paramedic training. Either EMT 100 or EMT 101 plus EMT 102 fulfills the requirement to sit for the NREMT certification exam.

Is There a Co-requisite to the EMT Basic class?

EMT 102 (1 unit) is taught in conjunction with EMT 100 and 101 and it is a required co-requisite. Registration for this class is only done during the first week of the EMT100/101 course. Students receive clinical experiences by riding along with the San Francisco Fire Department as well as private ambulance services in San Francisco. There are a variety of different dates and shifts for students to meet this requirement. This section will be discussed during the first week of class.

Are there other class requirements for the EMT Basic course?

All students are required to have a TB exam prior to attending the EMT 102 clinical class. You must submit proof of exam from the health center or any medical clinic, physician, etc.

A placement test, resume, and letter of recommendation are required to be turned in the first day of class.
CPR classes are offered at the John Adams Campus for all EMT students during the semester. Students must sign in for one session prior to course completion or if you have attended a CPR class prior to enrollment, you must submit a copy of your current card. The Emergency Medical Services Agency only accepts the Health Care Provider level (Heart Association) or CPR for the Professional Rescuer (Red Cross). There is a small fee for the CPR card.

There are associated fees for equipment, textbooks, and study materials. These fees are subject to change and this will be clarified during the first week of class.

How Do I get certified as an EMT in California?

After successful completion of either the EMT 100 or 101 courses you are eligible to take the written National Registry examination ($70.00). Registration and information for this exam is done online at www.nremt.org. Following successful completion of the NREMT exam you will need to submit proof of CCSF course certificate, live scan receipt, NREMT exam receipt, CPR card, EMS agency application ($36.00). You will need to submit proof that you have completed a live scan (approx. $52.00) and background check. The live scan form and EMS application can be downloaded from the SF EMS Agency at www.sfdem.org. The EMS agencies are the certifying authority for all EMT students. The SF EMS Agency will not certify candidates with a criminal background. If unsure of your status, call (415) 487-5000.

How do I register for classes?

All registration is done on online. You will need to apply to CCSF at www.ccsf.edu, receive a registration date, and then register online on that date or after.

My EMT certification is going to expire, how do I take a refresher?

EMT 103 Refresher (1.5 unit) meets for 4 Thursdays from 8am to 4pm at the John Adams Campus only. The Refresher is for those students who are certified EMTs and need to recertify. The Refresher course is offered once each semester and provides an update in all areas of pre-hospital emergency medical care.
