

The Movement for Black Lives: Displacement, Policing and Communities of Color

Salimah Hankins, Attorney

Human Rights Activist

Community Organizer

Wednesday, February 15th

12:30 - 2:00 pm

MUB 251, Ocean Campus

Light Refreshments Provided.

Salimah Hankins is a community lawyer, human rights activist, street-art-enthusiast, and a traveler. She currently serves as Senior Staff Attorney at Community Legal Services in East Palo Alto (CLSEPA), California, where she does anti-displacement work in Silicon Valley. She has authored four consecutive human rights reports (2013 to 2016) for the US Human Rights Network. Salimah is the a co-founder of the newly formed Human Rights Taskforce at the National Lawyers' Guild and has advocated for the rights of low-income clients of color as a civil rights attorney at the ACLU of Maryland and the Fair Housing Justice Center.

- ▶ - Reply to RSVP, if your students will be attending so that we can plan for adequate seating.
- ▶ Space is limited! Please contact Tracy Burt (tburt@ccsf.edu) to RSVP for a group.
- ▶ Persons requiring accommodation, please contact DSP&S at 452-5481. Please give at least 72 hours notice.