GENERAL INFORMATION

General Programs Of Study

Career Education Programs

City College of San Francisco provides Career Education (CE) to meet the needs of students, employers, and the community. CE programs are developed in cooperation with industry, organized labor, professional organizations, subject matter experts, and outside credentialing agencies to assure they are relevant and up-to-date. CE programs consist of specialized occupational training designed to:

- qualify students for entry-level employment
- help students build or upgrade skills in fields in which they have prior experience or training
- prepare students for external certification or credentialing in certain fields

Credit and Noncredit Programs. Most CE programs earn college credits (or units) that may be applied toward a college degree; others consist primarily of noncredit courses. For more information about credit or noncredit classes in a specific program, please consult the “Programs and Courses” section of this catalog.

Program Completion Awards. CE programs consist of a series of courses designed to prepare students for entry-level employment in a specific field of study. Upon successful completion of the program, students may earn an associate degree (A.S. or A.A.), a credit certificate (Certificate of Achievement or Certificate of Accomplishment), or a noncredit certificate (Certificate of Completion or Certificate of Competency).

Certificate programs consist primarily of CE courses, and are generally 12 to 30 units. Associate degree programs require 60 or more units of coursework, including courses required for the major and for General Education.

Skills Building. Students who have prior experience or training in a field may enroll in specific CE classes within a program in order to upgrade or build their skills, improve their employability, prepare for an external credential, or advance in their current career.

Employment. Although the College cannot promise employment, it uses various means of helping students find positions. Instructors in career and technical fields maintain advisory committees and extensive contacts with employers, and can assist students in making valuable connections with employers. CE programs, in partnership with employers, often have recruitment programs through which students meet employers on campus. Many programs have off-campus work experience or internship opportunities. Additionally, students can access Career Services, including Career Development Counseling and online resources, at www.ccsf.edu/CareerServices.

Transfer. A student pursuing career education and transfer to a university should refer to the college catalog to determine which courses are transfer eligible and seek advisement to ensure they have an updated student educational plan on file.

Work Experience Education. City College provides a variety of structured work-based and school-based learning experiences through cooperative agreements between the student, the employer, and the instructor in several academic and career and technical courses. Students who fulfill the agreement achieve several job objectives and earn transfer able college units. For more detailed information about work experience and internship classes in a specific program, please consult the “Programs and Courses” section of this catalog. Additional information can be found at www.ccsf.edu/WorkExperience.

Transfer Program

Credit earned in City College courses is transferable to universities and colleges, but not on a uniform basis, since the transfer policies of these institutions vary. Students who intend to transfer may satisfy lower division requirements for the professions or the liberal arts, and transfer to baccalaureate degree-granting institutions.

Articulation agreements which list detailed information concerning specific majors and which describe course transferability and applicability between City College of San Francisco and baccalaureate degree institutions are available online at www.assist.org and at www.ccsf.edu/artic.

Honors Program

The Honors Program offers students an enhanced educational experience along with potential transfer and scholarship benefits.

Honors courses provide students with an enriched curriculum either in:

- specific sections of core transfer courses or
- honors contracts (Students complete an agreement with the faculty member for Honors work in addition to the regular course work.)

Transfer Benefits of Honors Work. In either case, the course is designated "Honors" on the student's transcript.

Many universities and colleges recognize the academic achievement represented by Honors courses with preferential transfer tracks, supplemental points in transfer evaluation, scholarships for honors students, etc. Successful completion of honors course work can be a big asset especially in transferring to programs in heavy demand at universities.

CCSF Honors students may also look forward, after transfer, to participation in honors programs in many universities and colleges.

Eligibility for Honors Courses. While any CCSF student may take an honors course, to participate fully in the Honors Program and have your work recognized on a certificate, you need to meet ONE of the following criteria:

- College GPA of 3.0 or higher
- SAT score of 1650 (1100 if pre-Spring 2005) or higher, ACT score of 24 or higher
- TOEFL score of 500 (PB+), 61 (IB+), or 173 (CB+)
- Score of 4 or higher on AP classes in high school

To remain in the program, you must maintain a GPA of 3.0 or better. To receive an Honors designation on a certificate, you must complete at least 15 units in Honors. By completing at least 15 units via at least five honors classes you may also be eligible for our Honors Transfer Partnerships, which will give you preferential treatment when applying for a variety of colleges and universities. Most of these partnerships require that you do no more than 9 of your 15 units of honors credits during your last semester at CCSF. Please note that while completing 15 units is an admirable goal, it is not a requirement for membership. The word "Honors" will appear on your transcripts next to all honors classes you complete, even if you do not complete all 15 units.

UCLA Transfer Alliance Program. If you are applying for the UCLA Transfer Alliance Program, at least 6 of the 15 required Honors Program units for certification must be completed by the end of the fall semester the academic year before the student wants to begin at UCLA. So for example if a student wants to start at UCLA in the fall of 2011, s/he must complete at least 6 honors units of the required 15 honors units by the end of fall 2010 in order to get TAP certified. The remaining 9 units can be completed in the spring. It should also be noted that in order to be eligible for TAP certification, the student's "UC GPA" must be at least a 3.0. TAP certified students are eligible for priority admissions to the UCLA College of Letters and Science and may be eligible for UCLA honors scholarships. Please visit <http://www.ugedducation.ucla.edu/tap/> for additional details on the UCLA TAP Program.

Honors Courses Offered. Check the Time Schedule for the list of courses in honors each semester. Look under "Honors Courses." Honors courses at City College have included the following instructional areas: anthropology, art, Asian American Studies, biology, broadcasting, business, Chinese, economics, English, French, geography, interdisciplinary studies, Japanese, mathematics, music, nutrition, political science, psychology, sociology, Russian, Spanish, speech, and Women's Studies.

The Honors Program instructors will work with all CCSF students on honors projects with some exceptions. Some instructors are so popular with honors students that they cannot work with everyone that wants to do honors projects with them. They may give students a test and work with only the top scorers. Others may have various other criteria. Some instructors will not work with students on honors projects who have not earned a CCSF GPA of 3.0 or higher (your GPA goes on the honors contract form so that is how they know about it). The best way to find out is to ask them. The CCSF website (<http://www.ccsf.edu/Info/Dir/dir.shtml>) has every instructor's e-mail address and phone number on it so students can ask them.

For questions concerning the Honors Program, please call the Honors Office Cloud Hall 214 at (415) 239-3376 or e-mail skudsi@ccsf.edu. Additional information is also featured on our web page: <http://www.ccsf.edu/Departments/Honors>.

The LGBT Studies Department at CCSF was the first in the United States and the second in the world. From the 1980's onward, this has been a vibrant program that now offers students an A.A. degree in the field. The courses in LGBT Studies focus on intersecting identities and the ways that race, ethnicity, socio-economics, religion, and other social structures interact with gender identity/gender expression and sexual orientation. The LGBT Studies department has articulation agreements with Napa Valley College's certificate in LGBT Studies as well as San Diego State University's B.A. in LGBT Studies. LGBT Studies aims to promote objective understanding of the complexity of gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender and queer experiences while serving the broad educational needs of the student body. The department hopes to increase social and cultural awareness and competency particularly to students going into healthcare and/or educational settings.

Noncredit Programs, Services, and Resources

Students enrolled in noncredit courses have access to a variety of services which are designed to help each student attain educational and career objectives. There are counseling services for students seeking postsecondary and/or continuing education as well as vocational training. Counseling services reinforce the overall goals and objectives of the College. Adults seeking assistance and guidance are helped to become financially, educationally, and personally self-sufficient.

GED Testing Department at Mission Center. The tests of General Education Development (GED) were developed to assist individuals, who have not completed their high school education, with obtaining a certificate equivalent to a traditional high school diploma. The GED battery consists of four subject areas: Math, Science, Social Studies, and Language Arts. Upon successful completion of the GED tests, the California State Department of Education awards an equivalency certificate to the GED candidate. By California law, the equivalency certificate is considered equal to a high school diploma for purposes of employment in all state and local public agencies. The certificate is also accepted nationally by most employers, colleges, and universities.

City College offers the GED tests in English and Spanish. Special editions are available for the legally blind. Modifications and special accommodations for students with disabilities can be made by prior arrangement and approval of the State GED Administrator only after providing supporting documents.

HiSet testing is also available. The HiSet Test is the new alternative test to the GED. The HiSet diploma/certificate is also accepted by employers and accredited colleges in all 50 of the United States.

Students and members of the public who wish prepare for the exams should enroll in Transitional Studies GED/HiSet preparation courses offered at several CCSF locations. The City College of San Francisco GED Testing Center is located at the Mission Center, 1125 Valencia St. Rm 110 San Francisco, CA 94110, (415) 561-1824 GED Testing Computer Lab: Room 105.

Online Learning

Online classes provide students with the opportunity to learn in an environment that is physically remote from their instructors and classmates, making it easier to balance higher education goals with other responsibilities. Some online classes require students to come to a CCSF campus for orientations, weekly or monthly mandatory meetings, and exams. Online classes may require textbooks, assignments, exams, and frequent interaction between students and instructors. Many online classes meet local (CCSF) associate degree, transfer associate degree, certificate, and CSU/UC transfer requirements. Students may choose to combine online learning with on-campus classes or take an entire course load online. Online classes are as demanding as lecture classes. Students must be self-motivated, possess effective study skills, and be able to work independently. Some online classes require program downloads as well as minimum hardware and software requirements. CCSF uses the learning management system called Canvas (<https://ccsf.instructure.com>) for all its online classes and Zoom as a web-conferencing tool. We strongly encourage online students to have basic experience with the Internet and we require that they have regular access to a web-enabled device. Some technology tools are only accessible with a laptop or desktop. Some courses may require students to use a webcam in order to meet the student learning outcomes, both during class and for required assignments. Some coursework may need to be recorded and submitted on video. (Students without such devices may use computers on campus in designated CCSF labs.) Registration for online classes is the same as for in-person classes. Information on course offerings is listed in the online Class Schedule. Visit <https://www.ccsf.edu/academics/online-learning> for information about what to expect in an online class and guidelines for successful online learning.

Study Abroad Programs

The Study Abroad Programs Office provides students with the opportunity to study and live in another country while receiving CCSF credit and continuing to work towards their academic goals. Both semester length and short term programs are offered. Students are encouraged to explore the use of financial aid and scholarships in order to help finance a study abroad experience. International study provides unique insights into culture, language, history and oneself. Participants will gain a more global perspective on cultural, international, political, and economic issues; interpersonal relationships; and career choices. For more information contact the Study Abroad Coordinator by calling 239-3778, or visiting Cloud Hall, Room 212. Students can request program brochures by e-mailing studyabroad@ccsf.edu. Program information and brochures are also available on the program website: www.ccsf.edu/studyabroad.

Today, more than thirty courses are taught in various disciplines, focusing on the complex roles of women in society. The department houses Project SURVIVE, a sexual health education program that works to end sexual assault, intimate partner violence, and structural violence.
