Dear Students,

Welcome to a new semester at City College of San Francisco! We are excited that you chose a class in the Health and Safety Sector. This last year has highlighted the importance of health and safety careers as the essential workers supporting our community in times of greatest need. CCSF programs will prepare you to serve your community and build a fulfilling career. This has been a time of great expansion in the health and safety field as the number and types of opportunities for our students continues to grow.

At City College we are honored to have many exceptional programs in the health and safety area. The full list of the programs that we offer can be found on our CCSF website at: <https://www.ccsf.edu/degrees-certificates/health-and-safety>. The dedicated faculty at CCSF are always working to make sure the programs that we offer will give you all the current tools to succeed in your future careers.

In addition to the wonderful programs, the Health and Safety Success Network made up of faculty, staff and administrators are here to support you in your journey. Your success network connects with you through a Canvas shell where you can find access to resources, support services, and events that will enrich and support your learning. Join the Canvas shell by clicking on this link: Health and Safety Success Team. In the shell, you can access your team including peer coaches, faculty mentors, librarians, counselors, and other staff ready to support you. I am available for drop-in hours starting the second week of the semester. Please drop-in and say hi! Please let us join you in your journey to your next degree or career!

Wishing you a great semester,
