

CREDENTIAL EVALUATION SERVICES

The following is a partial list of professional foreign credential evaluation services. These services evaluate for a broad range of purposes, such as employment, professional state licensing boards, or continuing education at schools, colleges or universities.

This list is supplied for your information and in no way implies formal recognition or approval by the University of California. The educational system in the United States is decentralized. Therefore, the interpretations of these organizations are in no way binding on any university, college, or governmental agency, each of which is authorized to make its own decisions concerning the recognition granted educational credentials from abroad.
